Papa's own girl

In 'Papa's Own Girl,' Marie Stevens Howland weaves a poignant narrative that encapsulates the complexities of father-daughter relationships against the backdrop of 19th-century America. The novel employs a rich, descriptive prose style infused with emotional depth, revealing themes of identity, familial love, and societal expectations. Howland places her characters in a vivid historical context, offering readers insight into the challenges faced by women during this era, and the nuances of gender roles that shape their experiences. This literary work is a testament to Howland's dedication to portraying the emotional landscapes of her characters with sensitivity and precision, drawing parallels to the prevailing literature of her time, yet striving to carve out her unique voice within that tradition. Marie Stevens Howland, a prominent figure in the literary scene of her era, found her inspiration in her own experiences as a daughter and the constraints imposed by societal norms. Known for her advocacy for women's education and rights, Howland's writings often reflect the tensions between personal desires and societal roles, which have profoundly influenced her storytelling. Her commitment to exploring the intricacies of familial relationships serves to enrich the narrative, allowing readers to connect with the characters on a profound level. 'Papa's Own Girl' is an essential read for those interested in women's literature and 19th-century social history. Howland's compelling narrative invites readers to not only engage with the characters' journeys but to reflect on broader social themes that remain pertinent today. This novel is a vivid exploration of the struggles and triumphs of a young woman seeking her own identity in a world shaped by patriarchal values, making it a powerful and enduring contribution to American literature.

Papa's Vow

"Why did Papa offer me to the Lord to become a preacher?" Samuel Grant wonders. "My brother Toby would be much better than me. Things come easier for him than they do me." His sister Hallie's confession to taking the red string off the wrist of the older brother when the twins were toddlers adds more confusion to Samuel's dilemma. Hallie doesn't know if she put the string back on the right brother's arm. Now what will happen? "Maybe I'm not Samuel. Maybe I can live a normal life and get married to Katrina." The brothers live in a state of uncertainty while waiting for their true identity to be uncovered. On the way to finding out which twin is the older one, the Grant siblings endure hair-raising experiences, such as helping birth a baby, concealing the mother's whereabouts, caring for the newborn until the mother decides what she'll do with the infant, and an impromptu wedding. These and more challenges strengthen the character of the young man who was actually offered to the Lord in Papa's Vow.

Papa's Apple Tree Farm

Grand-papa's Arithmetic

Thomas yearns to believe in Papa's angels, to see the unseen, hear the unheard, touch that which lies just beyond the ether of understanding. Yet, he is afraid that to do so will plunge him into the same deep place of madness that afflicted his father \"seeing angels in the olive trees, and imagining the boy, Jesus, emerging from the caves along the dead waters. Even after he becomes a disciple of the itinerant preacher from Nazareth, and sees the glorious miracles, hears the stories of healing and comfort, he holds back, afraid to commit, afraid to lose himself in Jesus's calling to unconditional love. In the end, Thomas realizes that while his struggle for understanding matters, salvation demands acceptance of the persistent doubt that beats within the heart of faith.

Papa's Gift

Papa's Jade By: Patricia R. Liles Family ties are fragile. A telegram informing Millicent Sherman of her brother Caleb Powell's death and his bequeath of Powell Imports to his only child comes as a shock. Sondra, his daughter, has been Millicent's to nurture for over twenty years. With no contact to her father, Sondra has denied her relationship with him: "I don't have a father – he gave me away when I was a toddler. Let his Jade have it." Siu Lu, Caleb's 10-year-old adopted child, has lived in California where he could monitor her care under Gem Chang, a Chinese-American woman who Millicent embarrassingly mistakes for his mistress. Sondra, for Millicent's sake, relents and travels to California for her father's memorial. As rumors of a priceless jade given to Caleb hover in the air; no one is aware the jade specter will alter all their lives forever. Will love, abduction, and death draw them closer in Caleb's memory? Or alienate them forever?
